Out & Up, Inc. holds its first Strategic Planning Session

Macon, Georgia (July 23, 2007) Out & Up, Inc held its first strategic planning session on July 21 at the Mercer University Religious Life Center. The session was facilitated by Ms. Renee Sattiewhite who provided participants an opportunity to communicate with each other and to craft a master plan for addressing the needs of the organization. Ms. Sattiewhite facilitated a clarification of these needs, a plan for addressing the needs, a time line for accomplishment of tasks and an assigned responsible party.

Board participants were excited about the plans made and evaluated the day as an overall success. The organization and its customers should see some tangible outcomes within the next 3- 6 months according to staffers.
